
Advantech Connect Online Partner Conference to Promote Edge-to-Cloud Partnerships & AIoT Solutions

Advantech, a leading provider of advanced IoT intelligence systems, is excited to launch its Advantech Connect Online Partner Conference, an online partner conference for global partners, focusing on the theme “Edge-to-Cloud Partnerships Enable Smart City Services with AIoT (Artificial Intelligence of Things)”. The conference sessions will be livestreamed in two time zones (Paris and New York) on April 21 (UTC+2) and April 28 (UTC-4) and center around two main topics: Intelligent Hospitals and Telehealth & Mobile Solutions.

Discover the AIoT Trends Driving the Realization of a Digital Healthcare Ecosystem

According to the International Data Corporation, COVID-19 has accelerated digital transformation with analysts predicting that global smart city investments will reach US$203 billion by 2024. The main investment areas are predicted to be artificial intelligence/machine learning (AI/ML), data-driven management, intelligent infrastructure, and digitalization.

Advantech Connect brings together industry leaders and expert partners to explore the potential of AIoT for the healthcare industry. In the healthcare sessions on April 21, these experts will discuss industry trends and provide insights into various vertical markets.

- Intelligent Hospitals

Participants will explore the latest trends and iHospital solutions aimed at intelligent ward services, quality nursing care, integrated operating rooms, and medical specialty applications. Experts from NVIDIA, Brandon Medical, INTER Forward Solutions, Fysicon, Yansys, TMM software, and ResponseCare will share their experience of deploying new technologies for various medical specialties and provide insight into how these solutions enable efficient, high-quality patient care.

- Telehealth & Mobile Solutions

Focusing on telehealth and mobile medical solutions, speakers will discuss the new era of telehealth, reasons for its rapid adoption, and how on-demand healthcare can be achieved with mobile solutions. Telehealth software partners and expert doctors with real-world experience will be invited to share insights regarding telehealth deployment and the benefits for medical staff and patients to provide a comprehensive overview of the telehealth ecosystem. In cooperation with our European collaborates Alphatron Medical and Softgent.
