
Exceptional Image Quality Is Possible In O R With Faxitron Trident HD Specimen Radiography System

At Hologic, we understand that there is nothing more important for your breast surgery patients than being sure.

- Are the margins clear?
- Do you have the specimen of interest?
- Have the markers been captured?

We also understand the need to minimise time under anaesthesia and recall rates for additional excisions, together with your frustrations with waiting for margin confirmation and sample verification.

We are therefore pleased to introduce the Faxitron Trident HD System. Fast to learn, easy to use, simple to maintain and delivering exceptional image quality for efficient and informed decision making in the operating room.¹

Radiology and Surgery, working together like never before to create workflow efficiencies and deliver better patient care.
