
First Patient Enrollment For Septal CRT Study

SEPTAL CRT is a prospective, randomised trial designed to investigate the long-term clinical efficacy and patient outcomes of placing a right ventricular defibrillator lead in different areas of the heart for patients implanted with a Boston Scientific cardiac resynchronisation defibrillator (CRT-D). Patients will be implanted with a RELIANCE

Published on : Fri, 7 Nov 2008