Netherland's Hospital Selects Sectra for Enterprise Imaging

International medical imaging IT and cybersecurity company Sectra has signed a contract with Amstelland Hospital in the Netherlands. The hospital's radiology department will be using Sectra's enterprise imaging solution as a subscription (Sectra One). It will enable future scalability as imaging volumes grow, as well as the possibility of expanding into other specialties.

"It will support us in shaping the digital future of our hospital as it allows us to easily expand to other medical specialties and departments. The solution will also streamline our radiologists' workflow, provide them with user-friendly tools and enable them to collaborate more effectively to ultimately deliver better patient care. The proven high quality and good service were other important aspects when we chose Sectra," Dr. Jasper Sluimer, Radiologist and Chief Medical Information Officer at Amstelland Hospital, says and continues: "Our mission is to provide high-quality medical treatments and customer care, provided by motivated staff. The digitalization of healthcare is important for the future; therefore, we are excited about partnering with Sectra and the implementation of their enterprise imaging solution at our hospital."

Amstelland Hospital is a general hospital located in Amstelveen, the Netherlands. It offers a wide range of medical services, including emergency care, surgery, radiology, cardiology, and rehabilitation. The hospital has over 200 beds and employs around 1,100 healthcare professionals.

The contract, signed in June 2023, provides Sectra's enterprise imaging solution as a subscription (Sectra One) and Amstelland Hospital will initially implement the radiology and breast imaging software modules.

Sectra's enterprise imaging solution will provide radiologists with tools that allow them to easily share images and information within their team and between departments. By utilizing a single platform, they will be able to collaborate more easily and work with patients more efficiently.

"Partnering with Amstelland and providing them with Sectra One makes me proud. Our subscription model offers them the flexibility to scale their imaging solution, ensuring that they can continue to provide high-quality care to their patients while adapting to the changing healthcare landscape," says Peter Osinga, Managing Director, Sectra Benelux and DACH.

Sectra's enterprise imaging solution provides a unified strategy for all imaging needs while lowering operational costs. The scalable and modular solution, with a VNA at its core, allows healthcare providers to grow from ology to ology and from enterprise to enterprise.
