
Over 18,000 Delegates Attend Annual European Congress of Radiology

Each year, over 18,000 international delegates attend ECR, the annual meeting of the European Society of Radiology (ESR) and the second largest radiological congress worldwide.

Combining an authoritative scientific programme with a cutting-edge technical exhibition and exclusive services, ECR is a congress with a visionary outlook. The record 5,657 abstracts submitted this year bear witness to the confidence invested in the congress by top radiologists all over the world.
