
Transoma Receives Remote Device Clearance

The company says its data review feature allows a clinician to access up to 99 events stored on the patient's personal diagnostic manager (PDM), a handheld device that retrieves and stores ECG data from the implanted device prior to automatic transmission to the 24/7 monitoring centre. Each stored ECG strip is labeled with the time and date of the cardiac event, allowing clinicians to correlate symptoms with rhythms.

Published on : Mon, 15 Jun 2009