
Vincent Eppner Appointed VP, Head of System DevOps and Quality Assurance at Siemens Healthineers

Vincent Eppner assumes the role of Vice President, Head of System DevOps and Quality Assurance at Siemens Healthineers, based in the New York City Metropolitan Area.

In his new position, Eppner leads a cross-functional, multi-site team responsible for driving a business transformation in the complex medical devices sector, specifically in in-vitro diagnostics.

Eppner's primary focus is to transition the organisation into the Industrial DevOps era, ensuring the seamless integration of advanced testing disciplines to enhance business quality assurance.

His professional skills encompass a wide spectrum, including expertise in business transformation, industrial DevOps, medical device research and development, management of multicultural teams, and the rigorous oversight of quality assurance processes. Eppner's appointment signifies Siemens Healthineers' commitment to innovation and excellence in the dynamic landscape of healthcare technology.

Published on : Thu, 19 Oct 2023